

Market-Q

A powerful browser-based desktop terminal

Market-Q is a full-featured market data solution that requires no software to install or maintain

With Market-QSM our browser-based workstation for financial professionals, Interactive Data provides a flexible and comprehensive service that integrates real-time pricing information, corporate actions and dividend data, news, research and sophisticated tools, including charts and alerts.

With no software to download and easy, anywhere access via any web browser, users can log in from any computer and get access to their workspaces.

Data includes a broad range of global exchanges and indices, including performance data, historical pricing data, fixed income data, commodities, exchange-traded equity and derivative securities.

Who can benefit from Market-Q?

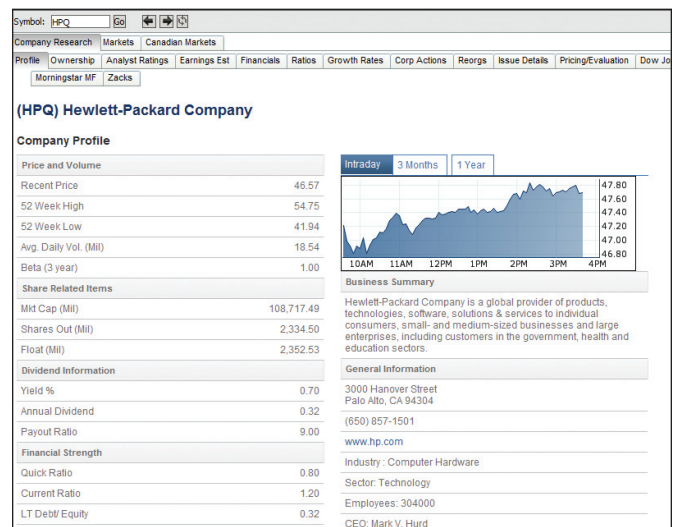

- Full service and discount brokerages
- Financial advisors
- Hedge funds
- Back office, including customer relations
- Asset management and private banking

Key benefits

- Offers quotes, charts and news from leading sources, such as Dow Jones, in a portable and easily deployable service
- Delivers global data from more than 125 exchanges across multiple asset classes, including equities, derivatives, Forex and fixed income data
- Contains hundreds of preset scans for monitoring top performers for U.S. equities and indices
- Serves as a cost-efficient use of computer resources and bandwidth — no software to maintain or upgrade
- Includes full support for our Enterprise Server, which manages cost by reducing bandwidth for remote and central offices by enabling users to host servers onsite
- Supports varying levels of trade and quote conflation to best meet bandwidth requirements

Market-Q features include custom workspaces, interactive charts, option chains, market depth, news, research and ease of use (drag and drop, alerts, DDE, RTD, data export, and more).

Research (with an emphasis on the U.S. and Canadian markets) includes company descriptive data, fundamentals, company profile, corporate actions/reorganizations, ETF Profile, financial statements, growth rate, earnings estimates, ownership data and analyst ratings.

- Provides wireless quotes, charts and news on your BlackBerry, Java-enabled device or iPhone with no additional exchange fees, using QuoTrek
- Allows for individual entitlement, easy account management and comprehensive reporting, making for a powerful administrative tool
- Allows individual quote, chart, news and other window types to be licensed separately for inclusion in proprietary applications
- Provides charting with an extensive library of studies and drawing tools and one of the most robust charting packages available
- Offers NASDAQ Basic, which provides real-time quote and trade data directly from the NASDAQ Market Center and the FINRA/NASDAQ Trade Reporting Facility (TRF)

Customizable and private label solutions

Each of the Market-Q windows is capable of running in a modularized fashion and can be embedded into a browser for customized offerings.
